

Drives great, less filling

The 2005 Chevy Silverado LS1500 4WD Extended-Cab Hybrid uses clean car technology to power a 5.3-liter engine with 295 horsepower. That means it saves gas, which saves you money.

But if you want to take it for a test drive, you might consider heading to California because they're hard to find in Washington.

Unless we pass SB 5397.

Then this truck and over 900 others that use clean car technology will be readily available in Washington.

Why should California have all the fun?

Clean cars mean more consumer choice.
